Patamon is a Mammal Digimon. It is characterized by its large ears, and is able to fly through the air by using them as large wings, but because it only goes at a speed of 1 kph, it is said that it is definitely faster walking. However, it's very popular because its appearance is cute when it is desperately flying (though it seems that it doesn't feel the same). Due to its extremely obedient personality, its trainers are well-defended. Also, even though Patamon doesn't wear a Holy Ring, it is able to exhibit its hidden holy power, and it appears to have inherited the genes of ancient Digimon.[7] Attacks Boom Bubble[8] (Air Shot): Sucks in air then spews an air shot out in one burst. Kūchū Air Shot (空中エアショット, Kūchū Air Shot? lit. "Aerial Air Shot") Breeze Blaster (Air Gust): Inflates its body and spits out clouds. Body Blow[9] (たいあたり, Tai Atari?, lit. "Body Blow") Pretty Attack (Pretty Rush) Intercepting Air Shot (Geigeki Air Shot) Slamming Attack[10] (はねピンタ, Hane Binta?, lit. "Wing Slap"): Slaps the enemy with its wing-like ears. Thousand Wings (Thousand Wing) Spin Kick Air Slam Glide Tai Atari Bomb (たいあたりボム, Tai Atari Bomb? lit. "Body Blow Bomb") Kūchū Tai Atari Bomb (空中たいあたりボム, Kūchū Tai Atari Bomb? lit. "Aerial Body Blow Bomb") Patapata Hover Sparking Boom Bubble (Sparking Air Shot): An intensified Air Shot. Aero Slash: Breathes in air and shoots it out as blades made out of wind. Petit Tackle Design Patamon is a small flying creature resembling a guinea pig (Cavia porcellus) with light blue eyes, bat-like wings which could possibly be its ears, and a short, stubby tail. Its underside is a light cream color, while its back and head are orange. In Digimon Adventure tri, Patamon has two sharp fangs. Etymologies Patamon (パタモン) Official romanization given by the Digimon Reference Book and used in the franchise. (Ja.) Patapata (ぱたぱた, Patapata?), the onomatopoeia for flapping.
